SAILOR HELD AS SLAYER OF RABBI LAFAE

C. B. Hicks, Attached to U. S. Submarine 36, Arrested at Mare Island As Man Who Inflicted Fatal Injury

Prisoner Declared by S. F. Police To Be Person Seen With Cleric on Night of His Death at Gates Hotel

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The murderer of Rabbi Alfred G. Lafae, who died yesterday afternoon following an attack in the Gates Hotel, Fillmore and Geary streets, April 4, is believed to be under arrest at Mare Island Navy Yard. According to Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, the man in custody, who, the police say, positively is the sailor seen in the company of the cleric last Tuesday night, is C. B. Hicks, 25 years old.

At the Mare Island navy yard it was stated that C. B. Hicks was a yeoman, firstclass, and had been in the navy four and one-half years.

Naval authorities declined to give out any information concerning the case except to say he was held for the San Francisco police.

It was learned that Hicks is a member of the crew of the submarine S-36, which was commissioned at the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, Wednesday, and came to Mare Island that afternoon.

He was identified, according to Captain Matheson, by his handwriting which was compared with his signature on the hotel register at the Gates.

OFFICERS AND CLERK TO IDENTIFY MAN.

Hicks will be held in custody at Mare Island until the Secretary of the Navy gives his consent to turning him over to the San Francisco authorities. This afternoon Detective Leo Bunner and George McLaughlin were scheduled to leave here in the police launch with Belleville Tompkins, night clerk at the Gates Hotel, in order that he may make a positive identification.

Captain Matheson declared that the police have a number of witnesses who saw Hicks in company with Rabbi Lafae. It is claimed that they went to the Fillmore theater, a moving picture playhouse, on Tuesday night, and that several members of the church's congregation of the Bush Street Temple saw them there. It is on the basis of this, as well as the handwriting that the police are so sure of their man, Matheson asserted.

Hicks was first under suspicion by reason of the fact that the sailor registered at the hotel under the name of H. R. Hickman. Rabbi Lafae registered as "A. Layne."

The rabbi's funeral is announced as private and the body is at the Golden Gate Undertaking Company, 1550 California street.

SKULL IS CRUSHED IN BRUTAL ASSAULT.

Rabbi Lafae, whose skull was crushed in a brutal assault in a Fillmore street hotel, died Wednesday morning, April 6, after a long and painful struggle. His death left a widow and three children, all of whom were in the hospital at the time of his death.

The police automobile was completely wrecked and the taxi was only slightly damaged.

Fire Does $300,000 Damage to Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Heralded by the explosion of 100,000 rounds of small arms ammunition stored in the basement of the Ford Sportswear company's store, fire early today destroyed the building.

Two firemen were injured and a number of others were hurt when the roof of the Butterworth block collapsed.

Army Flyer Dies In 1500 Foot Fall

DAYTON, O., April 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Captain Richard Derby, 28, of Tacoma, Wash., flyer at McCook Field here, was instantly killed when his plane fell 1500 feet near the field today. He was flying a Thomas-Morse scout plane.

Captain Derby was married and had one child, 18 months old. He had been at McCook Field since August 15, 1922, and in the air service since July, 1921, coming from Florida.

STOCKTON, April 7.—Police had not succeeded in locating G. H. Overrocker, who is alleged to have tried to shoot his wife here Thursday night. Gerald Schmidt, also a suspect, appeared at a hospital with a bullet in his arm and was being questioned by authorities today.

Five Mothers Push 'Perams' In 52-Mile Race

LONDON, April 7.—The winning mother was Mrs. Groom, the Eastbourne matron, who made the distance in twelve hours and twenty minutes, with the second and third mothers and baby finishing respectively fourteen and twenty-three minutes later.

LONDON, April 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Five sturdy mothers pushing perambulators each freighted with a protesting baby crossed Westminster bridge as "Big Ben" chimed 7:15 o'clock this morning in fifty-two mile race to Brighton. The winner will get a silver cup and money for a pair of shoes.

The race is the outgrowth of a controversy between the mothers of the North and South of England as to which section had the hardest and speediest baby carriage chauffeurs. The contests were cheered by a crowd around the parliament buildings as they got away at dawn on their long walk. They expected to reach Brighton by sunset.

Officials of the society for the prevention of cruelty to children entered a protest against the affair, declaring the proceeding harmful to the children and asserting that if the little ones suffered the mothers would be prosecuted.

Three of the babies are under a year old, the youngest only five months. The other two are two years old.

It quickly became apparent that shoe leather and stamina were not the only factors in the race. Mrs. Ada May Edwards, of Manchester, mother of the five-month-old baby, wheeled a light folding "peram," took the lead at the start over the four heavier baby-carriages, but soon lost her advantage when she had to halt to nurse her offspring who had been loudly noising demand for nourishment.

Police Car, Taxi Crash, Four Hurt

City Official Auto Wrecked in Early Morning Smash.

Chief of Police James T. Drew today ordered an investigation to fix responsibility for a collision at Twenty-first street and Telegraph avenue between a police automobile, driven by Patrolman Fred Burbank, and a taxi, in which the police car was wrecked and four persons received minor injuries.

In the automobile with Burbank was Joseph Ous, 2972 Thirty-fifth avenue. The two were returning down Telegraph avenue from having taken Night Captain of Inspectors William Kyle to his home in North Oakland.

The taxi was driven by Fred Mayes, 269 Tenth street, and riding in it as a passenger was E. J. Jorgensen, 1767 Sonoma street, Berkeley. Mayes was driving west on Twenty-first street when the two cars collided.

All four of the men were treated at the emergency hospital for minor cuts and bruises by Dr. G. M. Peckham, who witnessed the accident and drove immediately to the hospital.

The police automobile was completely wrecked. The taxi was only slightly damaged.

S. P. TO DROP S. F. SERVICE VIA WEBSTER

"Dinky" and Line Connecting With Ferries Are to Be Discontinued on July 1; Aid For Tube Refused

Trains Over Fruitvale Bridge Will Prevent Hardships, Is Claim of Railway; City Maps Tunnel Drive

Train service to San Francisco over the Webster street line of the Southern Pacific company, and the Alameda "dinky" are to be discontinued about July 1, according to plans of the company announced today.

The announcement came supplementary to a declaration that the company did not intend to participate in any way in the construction, maintenance or use of the proposed tube under the Oakland inner harbor and connecting Oakland and Alameda.

Full co-operation with the city in arranging rights of way over company property for the entrance to the subway was assured, but any responsibility arising out of the pre-war contract between the county and the company for the construction of a bascule bridge was discredited by E. J. Foulds, Southern Pacific attorney.

NO HARDSHIP FOR PUBLIC TO CLAIM

"This company has no thought of going in on the tube project," said Foulds. "It is too expensive for our needs in that direction, and our Alameda service is adequate."

Under an order from the War Department, the Harrison street bridge of the company must be removed by July 1. In analyzing this situation, the company said that the present service over the Harrison street bridge was practically a competing service with its other lines to San Francisco, and that it has long been an unnecessary expense and has tended to keep up the high rates.

As for the "dinky" service, this was declared to be really outside of the province of the company's operations, and that street cars better service the street cars than the bridge for the future there would be no hardship worked on the public in discontinuing it.

S. P. NOT TO AID TUNNEL PROJECT

In connection with the bridge contract entered into with the county before the war, Foulds said the specifications and the contract had called for separate bridges and that only the operating machinery was to be controlled jointly. When the company decided to abandon its unit of the bridge it agreed to settle any damage growing out of its failure to install this operating machinery, said he, but that this could not amount to more than several hundred dollars. He said the company had nothing to do with the construction of the county unit of the bridge and that there could be nothing in the contract to require the company to give any assistance in the construction of the tube.

The company has appealed to the city for permission to abandon the "dinky" and the line running from the Fourteenth street station to the Alameda mole, but permission has always been refused. But since the War Department has ordered the Harrison street bridge discontinued by July 1, the service over these lines must be performed by the company. To date, no decision has been reached.

What the railroad commission may do after the lines in question have been discontinued.

TUBE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE FORMED

A campaign committee to work for the passage of the bonds for the estuary tube at the election on May 8 was organized yesterday. Those directing the movement are George Peasey, county engineer, who has drawn the plans for the proposed tube; Charles C. Wilson, campaign manager; W. J. Hamilton, chairman of the board of supervisors; and Clinton E. Hickok, secretary of the Oakland-Alameda Inner Harbor association, and Charles H. Secombe, the campaign for the tube is to be conducted by the Inner Harbor association, of which A. K. Tichenor is president.

OPPORTUNITY FOR DEVELOPMENT CITED

In discussing the tube project Tichenor said: "The Oakland-Alameda inner harbor offers the greatest opportunity for industrial development on the estuary waterfront."

He provided that great, deep water channels immediately adjacent to splendid industrial sites. No other section on the bay can be developed so cheaply.

Soldier Dead Spirit Photos Move Crowd

Conan Doyle in Lecture Shows On Screen Pictures Taken At Tomb.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASIS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, April 7.—A weird photograph, described by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle as that of a spirit war dead—myriads of grim faces hovering above the cenotaph of the Unknown Soldier in London during the two minutes of silence for prayer—drew gasps of astonishment from a large audience in Carnegie hall last night when he gave a lecture on spiritualism. Some women sobbed and even soldiers were thrilled.

"Do you see the dead creeping through?" Sir Arthur asked, pointing to the spectral faces on the screen. "You can see them everywhere."

There were two photographs, described as taken by Mrs. Dean, an English medium. The first, a snapshot, showed the great crowd standing bareheaded before the cenotaph. A faint luminous patch appeared over the throng.

The second picture showed countless heads of sad-faced soldiers floating above the memorial. The spectators were blotted out. Some faces were blurred, but others were distinct.

The general impression of the audience was that the faces were those of men who had been killed in battle.

"I don't wonder that you are moved," Sir Arthur said, when the sobbing and buzz of hysterical whispered comments interrupted his remarks. "I consider it the greatest spirit picture in the world."

He declared the plates had been developed immediately and that there was no chance for fraud.

The lecture was drawing to a close. Sir Arthur had finished on the screen a number of photographs he had brought with him on his former visit, when, without warning, he showed his "greatest picture." They were taken, he said, on the anniversary of Armistice day by Mrs. Dean, an English medium.

In the course of his lecture the creator of Sherlock Holmes said he hoped for the establishment of a great church uniting science and religion, to be known all over the world as the Church of America.

CARNARVON DEATH CAUSE OF PANIC

Collectors, Fearing Curse of Ancients, Give Up Relics.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASIS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LEASIS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

The death of the Earl of Carnarvon has caused panic among private collectors of Egyptian antiquities, according to the Daily Express, which declared that a number of people all over Great Britain are sending their treasures to the British Museum in London, fearing to retain them as they believe that Carnarvon was killed by "Dut-Ankh-Amen," his soul's double.

The paper says that an avalanche of parcels containing mummies, statues, and other Egyptian relics has descended on the museum in the last two days. The majority of the parcels do not bear sender names, the owners evidently trying to keep their identity secret.

The museum authorities are puzzled by this flood of gifts, for few of them are valuable. But, according to the Express, they are accustomed to such enforced donations having harbored the curse of Amen for years. When a story of the curse of the priestess became public some years ago enough gifts were showered upon the museum to fill a large warehouse.

The state of mind in New York regarding a mummy that had been in the British museum "which became noted because of the series of misfortunes which befell those who had anything to do with it," is prominently printed in the newspapers today. Museum officials, however, asserted that they were not aware of the existence of any such mummy. The public probably was confused regarding a mummy case and non-papyrus said to have a curse at the end of it. This papyrus was not found with the mummy-case and had no connection with it.

The machine was slightly damaged, flights of 10 to 12 feet were made today. Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland and E. J. Maughan are scheduled to take the air this afternoon at Wright field in Curtiss R-6 racing planes to set a speed record for the three-kilometer course.

HARDING TO STRESS U. S. TOPICS HERE

Internal Affairs, He Says in Augusta, Georgia, Speech. More Important Than Foreign Affairs At This Time

Speech Interpreted As Meaning That Administration Has Made No Commitment Abroad in Embroidery

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 7.—Grave as may be the conditions of European affairs at this time, President Harding is more concerned today with questions of domestic policy than with the problem of untangling the skein of world disorders; and it is upon these questions of domestic concern that he will lay the foundation of the speech-making tour which he will make through the West in mid-summer.

Virtual notice to this effect was served by the President here at the conclusion of his vacation in the South, during which he has had an opportunity to carefully canvass the political future with his advisers.

DOMESTIC AFFAIRS ARE CHIEF CONCERN.

"Our first concern is domestic affairs," Mr. Harding declared to a representative group of Southern farmers in the only public address he has made in weeks.

"We need not worry about international relations; I think I can assure you they were never better. We are not so involved in foreign affairs as some would have us believe."

"It will be the verdict of Europe that the United States of America is the most just nation in the world; and justice, my friends, is the most that is talked about by even God Almighty himself."

President Harding spoke after midnight, following several Southern tours, who compared him to William McKinley and lauded his administration as being "fair to the South."

The President did not so far forget his duties as to neglect domestic concerns he considered more important than the tangled state of foreign affairs, but it is known that taxation, railroad regulation, agricultural recovery, business prosperity and kindred matters of home concern will provide the major part of his theme on the western trip.

FARM BLOC TO BE ISSUED.

It is likely, too, that Mr. Harding will call the issue presented by the farm bloc and other blocs in Congress straight into the part of the country from which they sprang. He has indicated he will deal with the farm bloc more vigorously in his forthcoming address than he has in the messages he has addressed to Congress.

"There is a menace in the cultivation of class in this country," the President declared. "There is a menace in the growth of blocs. Let us be on guard against the promotion of jealousy and envy created by class consciousness."

Mr. Harding's utterances here on foreign affairs were interpreted as constituting an avowal that the United States has made no commitments abroad in the present emergency in Central Europe and Asia.

He also indicated that the effect of the articles about the alleged assassination of the President was a serious reflection on those connected with the military service and I wish to know all the facts."

Presumably Mrs. Randle's request was made after she and Captain Landis had withdrawn the civil suit against Colonel Conger which they had instituted for defamation.

MOVE TO HUSH ARMY ROW FAILS

Secretary Weeks Refuses to Drop Randle Case Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Secretary of War Weeks today turned down the request of Mrs. Edwin Randle of San Antonio, Texas, that the war department cease its investigation of the army "scandal" growing out of the $100,000 suit of herself and her husband against Colonel A. L. Conger, who was charged with defamation of character.

Mrs. Randle's request that the army's investigation be dropped was made in a telegram to Secretary Weeks following the dismissal by agreement of the suit against Colonel Conger.

Her husband is a captain in the 20th infantry, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and the scandal arose from accusations made against Randle and his wife by Conger, who is the regimental commander.

The damage suit was dismissed yesterday after a conference of the opposing attorneys. Nothing was given out as to the basis of the settlement.

The following telegram was read by the secretary from Mrs. Randle: "An understanding having been reached here, I desire to withdraw my request made to you for an investigation by an inspector general and to request that no action be taken as based thereon."

Secretary Weeks replied as follows: "I regret that it is not necessary for me to have a thorough investigation made of the case in which you are involved. It is of much broader importance than a personal matter between you and Colonel Conger. The publicity which has been given it creates in the minds of the people a serious reflection on those connected with the military service and I wish to know all the facts."

Presumably Mrs. Randle's request was made after she and Captain Landis had withdrawn the civil suit against Colonel Conger which they had instituted for defamation.

MILLERAND SEEKS HELP OF BRITISH

Loucheur's Mission to London Was to Sound Sentiment For Franco-English Entente Over Ruhr Valley

Breach Opened Between the French President and Premier On Continuing Policy in Regard to Reparations

ESSEN, April 7.—(By International News Service.)—Trial of the four directors of Krupp, who were arrested by the French on the charge of instigating last Saturday's disorders when eleven Germans were killed, today was postponed until next week.

Protests were made by German officials here today over the action of the French military tribunal at Recklinghausen in increasing the jail sentence of Mayor Schaefer from two years to three years. His fine was Schaefer asked for a new trial, elevated from five million marks to six million marks. Mayor

By WEBB MILLER, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, April 7.—Louis Loucheur's visit to England was at the request of President Millerand—not Premier Poincare—to ascertain how far Britain would go to guarantee France's security, if France, in a measure, veered over to Britain's viewpoint, according to persistent reports today. Loucheur has returned from his expedition in quite a short tempered state.

The outcome of his mission is not yet known. It is an open secret that Millerand and Poincare are very far apart with regard to what should be done to straighten out the reparations tangle.

The former, through private conferences with world-bele ministers, is trying to find a combination to replace the Poincare cabinet and renew the Franco-British entente. Millerand, it is believed, wants to get down to cases on reparations, while there is still time to endeavor to retire gracefully and gradually from the Ruhr.

Poincare is still very angry at Loucheur's apparent upturning of his role. He had a lengthy exchange of view with the French ambassador at London concerning the possible effect of the visit of this private citizen, acting as representative of the French president.

Meanwhile, the official press is reiterating that France must remain in the Ruhr and that the reparations bill must not be reduced.

LOUCHEUR DENIES REPORTED UTTERANCES.

PARIS, April 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Louis Loucheur, returning from London last evening, disclaimed the views on the reparations question attributed to him in the press, but told the foreign editor of Le Matin he had brought back a conviction that British opinion had changed and that the great majority of the public sentiment in England was clearly favorable to France.

This attitude he said, was also evident in the political world, except that there was mingled with it an uncertainty as to the possible consequences of the French Ruhr policy.

"I did not find an English politician, no matter what his party nor what views he entertained originally on the opportuneness of the Ruhr operation," M. Loucheur is quoted as saying, "who did not approve unreservedly when I declared that we will carry through this body, not even Mr. Lloyd George, had anything to say against that declaration."

ENTENTE AGREEMENT MAY BE REACHED.

Le Petit Parisien says an entente agreement may be reached as a result of M. Loucheur's visit. It adds that, before leaving Paris, he had several talks with Premier Poincare, at which the situation was thoroughly discussed. The former minister and his British friends, the journal affirms, are both satisfied with the result of the exchange of views.

Le Matin asks whether one may conclude from M. Loucheur's impressions that a change in England's attitude toward the Ruhr occupation is imminent.

The newspaper concludes: "Does M. Loucheur bring back from Premier Bonar Law suggestions of a nature which will hasten the abandonment of British neutrality?"

WOMEN OF STATE WIN BATTLE FOR COMMUNITY BILL

Assembly Approves Measure
By Vote of 60 to 11; Victory After Ten Years.

By E. van Lier Ribbink.
TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRA-MENTO, April 7.—Her Most Gracious Majesty, the California
Woman, has scored a notable victory in the adoption by the Assembly of the community property law, by an overwhelming majority of 60 to 11. The bill now goes to Governor Friend W. Richardson for his signature.

Passage of the bill, which gives a wife the right to dispose of her half of the community property as she deems fit, marks the climax of a ten-year-old fight. Throughout the session of the present legislature the Women's Legislative Council, the California Federation of Women's Clubs, the California Parent-Teachers Association, the California Civic League of Women Voters, and the Women's Christian Temperance Union have had their representatives at the capital working for the adoption of the measure. The associations represent a membership of 150,000
women in the state.

One of the principal factors which helped the women to achieve victory was the fact that their cause was endorsed by the State Bar Association, which drafted the bill, and strongly recommended its passage.

OPPOSES MEASURE.
Assemblyman Homer R. Spence was the only member of the Assembly to oppose the bill. He stated that he was opposed to the measure, and was one of the leaders in the fight on the bill.

Something which Assemblyman Spence said in the course of his address was interpreted by the proponents of the bill as an effort to throw doubt upon the Bar Association's wholehearted endorsement of the measure. Assemblyman
Frank Combs, Nestor of the House, immediately took up the question, and removed whatever doubt there might have been in the minds of those present by reading a telegram from J. W. R.
Butler, president of the California Bar Association, setting forth that the Bar Association was strongly in favor of the measure and that it requested its passage
by the Assembly.

Miss Esto Broughton, assemblywoman from Westwood, who introduced the bill in the Assembly,
reviewed the years of education and fighting which it had taken to carry the bill to its present stage.
On the ground of justice, she said, she was in favor of the bill, as her husband's father in life she made a plea for its acceptance.

EVERY ATTACK FAILS.
From the moment of the bill's appearance on the floor of the Assembly attacks were launched against it. The bill was attacked on the grounds of the excessive resistance of the great majority of the members of the house, who appeared to have fully made up their minds to have "the bill," the whole bill, and nothing but the bill. Assemblyman Chris E. Fox
of Berkeley, Assemblywoman Anna
L. Saylor of Berkeley, and Assemblyman B. S. Crittenden of San Francisco were in the van of these advocating its passage.

Efforts to hold up the bill through amendments were not lacking. One amendment proposed that all the community property should go to the surviving spouse, and the other was to effect that one-half of the property should go to the children of the deceased spouse, and in case
there were no children, that it should go to the surviving spouse.
But the proponents of the bill pointed out that the children were simply protected under general law, and the amendments were voted down. Assemblyman Spence announced that he was "opposed to the bill, opposed to all amendments, and opposed to anything that would disturb the present community property laws of the state."

ELEVEN VOTE "NO."
The end of the battle came with dramatic suddenness, as a longer debate had been expected. The bill, completely "under" all opposition, the following being the only assemblymen who voted
"no": Spence, Badaracco, C. C.
Baker, Cleveland, Dawson, Cozier, Latham, Quinn, and others of the West.

The State Credit Men's Association has been the principal organization fighting the measure, the association arguing that its property would "disrupt" the credit situation in the state, and that it would spell bankruptcy to many engaged in business.
Subsequent to the adoption of the bill, the various women's organizations, including the newspaper
"for the favorable publicity given our cause."

Now that the women have won
their right on community property,
it is believed that they will devote their efforts during the present session of the legislature to secure the passage in the Assembly of Senator Edgar Mulvey's bill for a domestic relations court. It is stated that the women are deeply interested in the cause of the Blind Children's Home at Berkeley.

School Supervision Bill Is Tabled in Committee

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRA-MENTO, April 7.—A bitter political fight, rivaling that which occurred recently in the State of Oregon and which ended in the practical elimination of all private schools in that state, was predicted
by Assemblyman Hugh Pomeroy of Los Angeles, following the "tabling"
by the Assembly committee on education of his bill which intended to place the instruction in private and parochial schools under the supervision of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Pomeroy informed the committee that his bill was introduced with a view to prevent a state of affairs
such as has now come to pass in Oregon. He intimated that should his bill be "killed," there was "a group of leading San Francisco businessmen who stand ready to finance a movement to place on the initiative ballot a measure that will go much farther in interfering with these private schools than is aimed at under my bill."

FAITHS LIKE BOMBHELL.
This announcement fell like a bombshell in the packed committee room—packed largely with the representatives of private schools, parochial schools and military academies throughout the state, who regarded the Pomeroy bill as the "thin edge of the wedge" which would eventually abolish private schools. A personal representative of Archbishop Jannas was also present in opposition to the measure.

Dr. Ernest Dozier of Redding indicated that Assemblyman Pomeroy gave the names of those men who were ready to finance placing the initiative anti-private school measure on the ballot, but Pomeroy declined to do so. Assemblyman Pomeroy was asked whether the persons to whom he referred "belonged to any secret society," to which he returned a positive denial.

Pomeroy, in the course of his argument, gave it as his personal opinion that the Oregon law was "a very reasonable" one, and went on to say that his bill would not interfere in any way with religious instruction,
but that it merely gave the state
"some supervision over the kind of instruction given in private schools." He declared that there are 100 non-public schools of the state at present 140,000 pupils, and that the standard of instruction afforded by these schools was of very important concern to the people of the state. In general, the speaker said, the private schools
give proper instruction, "but in many cases there is reason to believe that the standard of excellence that the state should require for the State's public schools."

SUPERVISION URGED.
In winding up his argument for the bill, Assemblyman Pomeroy said: "There is a general demand

coming for some sort of supervision of these schools, and there is a great body of the State's citizens who do not endorse the functions of these schools. Oregon was plunged into a bitter religious fight over this issue, and it is to be forgotten that such a fight in California that I am introducing my bill. But, if my bill fails, you may find on the next ballot some demand that will be no reasonable."

Jesse W. Whitehead, secretary of the Public Schools Welfare Association of California, also spoke in support of the proposed bill. He said, in part: "There are 22 private schools in the State of California. A large percentage of these schools are not turning out pupils
who are up to public school standards, and this state of affairs is a very real danger to the state. The bill gives the superintendent of public instruction the right to superintend, and there should be no objection to that on the part of any
one. I am in favor of Assemblyman Pomeroy's bill, without amendment."

Miss A. Ross, a teacher in a private school, started to take Assemblyman Pomeroy personally to task for sponsoring the bill, but was ruled out of order.

MOTION TO TABLE CARRIED.
Following a brief parliamentary wrangle, the motion to table the bill was taken, with the result that the bill was defeated, the motion to
"table" being carried by a vote of
"aye" against three "nays."

Except this rather stormy meeting of the Assembly committee on education, there were few other committee meetings. In the Senate there was a brief display of parliamentary proclivities when Senator Newton M. Allen's bill for the recall of appointed officers again came up. The bill was attacked from several quarters, and was mercifully "passed on file."

Senator Arthur L. Bush of Piedmont remarked that the measure would make the Regents of the University of California subject to recall, which, he said, "would be unthinkable," and Senator Will Bryant of Berkeley said that the bill "would make for much grief,
and would ultimately also apply to the State Railroad Commission."

A strong picturesque and dangerous touch was lent to the proceedings of the Senate by the appearance of a delegation of California Indians,
who came to tell of the desperate struggle of their tribes. The chiefs asked help for their tribesmen in the matter of food, lands, and also asked that some facility should be provided whereby they could make their wants known at each session of the Legislature.

PURE MILK LAW IS PASSED IN STATE SENATE

Boggs' Measure For Inspe-
tion Service and Scoring Contrasts Approved.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRA-MENTO, April 7.—The senate has passed a pure milk law, the features of which are the prevention of the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, butter, ice cream and other milk products. The bill, which was introduced by Senator Frank S. Boggs of Stockton, empowers cities and counties to establish milk inspection service, and also provides for "milk scoring contests." The bill contains strict regulations against insanitary dairies
and provides that all milk for human consumption must pass a tuberculin test.

PROVISIONS OF LAW.

Section 3 of the bill states:
"It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, except in bulk, to sell or offer for sale,
or sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption, any milk from cows which have not been pastured and by the holding process at a temperature not less than 140 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes; provided, that market milk shall not be heated for more than the hour
nor above 145 degrees Fahrenheit.
It shall further be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, for human consumption, any butter, ice cream or other products of milk (except cheese and except butter as provided in the general dairy law of California) into the composition of which any milk or cream other than that permitted in this section of this act to be sold at retail for human consumption."

HART MAKES PROTEST.

Section 3 of the bill, which deals
with milk as served in hotels, boarding houses, restaurants and other public places, was protested
by Senator Dwight H. Hart, who owns a hotel in Los Angeles, and said, in part: "The most important function of a city legislative body,"
he declared, "is that of budget making. It pertains to financial requirements of the entire city, and in the case of the city of Oakland,
it has to do with the expenditure of about $4,500,000. It is a vast task of the highest responsibility, and should in no case be undertaken by city officials without a considerable amount of knowledge and actual experience in the city's many and various needs."

The need of an attorney on the Board of Education was emphasized today by H. S. Craig, candidate for school director No. 2.
"There are three attorneys on the Board of Regents of the University of California, and we find an attorney on the board of practically every bank and other business institutions," said Craig. "There is as much reason, if not more, for having an attorney on the school board."

"The dear taxpayers are objects
of wonderful concern and sympathy to candidates for school director," said H. S. Craig, candidate for Commissioner No. 2, before the Rockridge Improvement club last night. "But after election the increase in taxes is 50 cents a year. I have learned that the taxpayers
do not object to paying for the things
they want, but they do properly object to paying more than they are worth."

The sole reason for my being a candidate is the desire to be of service along lines for which I have trained for many years," said Net to M. Miller, candidate for school director No. 3, at a meeting at Rockridge last night. "I have been the partner of my husband in the development of a large business.
My husband has always been the whole of true American domesticity."

George Mattus, candidate for Commissioner No. 2, last night addressed the Golden Gate Improvement club at Fifty-sixth street and San Pablo avenue, speaking on engineering problems as connected with the construction of streets.
The office for which Mattus aspires.
"The commissioner of streets must have a detailed, thorough knowledge of engineering in planning or supervising city streets," said Mattus.
"And it is my pledge to the voters of Oakland, if elected commissioner, to give them all the knowledge I have gained in a lifetime of study in engineering problems."

Pledging to keep his platform promises of economy, efficiency and harmony, E. L. Cornell spoke at a meeting in the Fruitvale school in School street last night. "I feel at home in East Oakland. Many of you citizens I know personally," he said. "And I want you to know every dollar spent by the school board of Oakland comes back to the citizens in a dollar's worth of service and results. I am not boasting, but simply carrying out my pledge to you."

Robert an East Oakland audience, Dr. Minora Kibbe, speaking for Mrs. Harry Boyle, candidate for school director No. 4, said: "She is capable, experienced through twenty years of association in public school affairs with her late husband, and specially equipped to serve the best interests of children and their parents, having raised a family of five herself."

No terrestrial upheaval annihilated the island, however. It was seriously rocked in the group in an early survey and has since been carried on all charts.

Kern county.

The senators smiled, a gallery
of stenographers giggled, Senator

Alfred C. Gillis, the singer, was one of a delegation of eight Indians, representing six tribes, who came here from Shasta, Humboldt, Siskiyou, Tuolumne, Inyo, Amador and Trinity counties to ask support for a memorial to congress, by Senator Powers, urging said this was his first visit to any

Political Notes

Economy is the crying need of Oakland in the opinion of Dan Oliphant, candidate for mayor, who spoke last night at a meeting of the Ninety-sixth Avenue Improvement club.

"I have it," said Oliphant, "the city could be so managed that it could cut the cost of city government and materially reduce the tax rate," said Oliphant. "The figures from the auditor's report show that the cost of operating the various city departments has increased enormously during the eight years of the present administration. During that time we have enjoyed a steady increase in assessed valuation, while at the same time our tax rate has increased until it is 40 cents higher than in 1915. With an increase in assessed valuation it should be easily possible by economic management and development of new sources of taxation to bring about a reduction in the tax rate.
There can be no doubt that the present administration has failed to reduce taxes despite campaign promises and promises of promises."
"I have entered the campaign as the candidate of the allied opposition to the administration, and I am pledged to a platform of economy and lower taxes. The allied opposition to the administration is steadily gaining supporters in all parts of the city from the ranks of those who see that the administration has signally failed."

"I am going into the office with the idea of bringing Oakland's city government into first place in America for efficiency, for result for the least possible cost," declared Fred B. Reed, in speaking to his friends in the Rock-ridge school last night. "It is my desire to surround myself with the best men, the best women, the best women, too, who can be persuaded or drafted into the service of the city. We won't economize for political effect, but there are enough of us to make it economically sound. We will cut out without injury, and they will be cut. For instance, the $150,000 given away to property owners in opening Fifth and Seventeenth streets. We will reduce the taxes in Oakland and we will create more taxable wealth
and we will economize in public expenditures."

Commissioner W. H. Edwards, candidate for reelection as Commissioner No. 1, addressed the Disabled Veterans last night at the Son of Herman hall, Twelfth and West streets. "The most impor-

Discontinuance of Service Comes After Refusal to Aid Tube Project.

by having both rail and water connections.

That it has not been more intensively developed before is due to the menace of the present bridges at Webster and Harrison streets. The substitution of a single bridge for these only partially relieves this menace. A tube will remove it entirely and the rapid increase in the industrial development will, in taxes alone, more than compensate for the difference in cost.

A tube is the most practical crossing between two cities, and when all factors are considered,
the most economical. A tube would offer no obstruction to navigation, preserving the full width of the estuary for the passage of ships, whereas the alternate proposition of a bridge
with a 200-foot draw would always be a menace to navigation.
Traffic through a tube would be continuous, uninterrupted,
and at a fair rate of speed. Traffic over a bridge would be continually interrupted by the passage of vessels, such interruptions occurring with ever-increasing frequency as the industries of the inner harbor develop and the commerce increases.

For the same width of roadway, it is conservatively estimated that a tube will carry from 35 to 40 per cent more traffic per day than a bridge due to the lack of interruptions and the higher rate of speed allowable.
On the bridge there is always a stopping up, almost to a stop with street cars when passing on or off the movable section.
This impedes the progress of all the traffic following.

The length of the tube, including open cut approaches as provided in the plans submitted, is but slightly longer than the alternative bridge proposal.
A tube leaves the waterfront contiguous available for wharf purposes and the dockage of vessels, while a bridge destroys its value for that purpose.

The federal government is sponsoring large sums in dredging
to improve the navigability of the inner harbor, solely for the purpose of aiding commerce.
Any obstruction such as a bridge hinders and retards the industrial development above the struggle, thereby negating the efforts of the government to aid commerce. There is no such objection to a tube.

WATER SUPPLY INCREASE URGED BY H. C. CAPWELL

Hundred Per Cent Club Told of Importance of Coming Election.

Urging the establishment of a water district from an economic point of view, Capwell said he desired the members of the Hunted Per Cent Club at the Hotel Oakland yesterday noon.

"Unless something is done we will find ourselves in the same position as the communities in eastern California," he said. "We are Capwell. "With two or three arid seasons the people there find themselves unable to make a living, and started a general migration to other climes."

"In the two we are consuming 24,000,000 gallons of water a day in the Eastbay district. As the population increases and more industries locate here the consumption of water will naturally increase, but no plan has been made to increase the supply."

"Oakland is the only large city in the United States that does not own and control the system upon which it depends for water. There

Capwell also urged the club members to go to the polls a hundred per cent, stressing the point that the welfare of the city depends largely on the outcome of the primary election.

Pioneer Teacher

HERKLEY, April 7.—Last night was sad for the St. Mark's Episcopal church, for Mrs. Sara Rightmire Smiley, pioneer educator of San Francisco and a member of the faculty of the famous old Lincoln school, across the bay.

Mrs. Smiley, who was 75 years old, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. R. Hoagland, 24 Fulton street, after a long illness. She had resided for the past three years at 2233 Broadway.

For 22 years before her marriage to Samuel P. Smiley, whose death occurred last November, Mrs. Smiley was a member of the San Francisco school department, serving as a teacher in the old Lincoln school from which many of San Francisco's present school graduates

Unitarian church in San Francisco and also affiliated with the California club across the bay.

Spring Work Topic For Auxiliary Meets

HAYWARD, April 7. — Discussion of spring time activities in improving Memorial Park and the pool which the Hayward Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion is to take in park improvements for the year will be discussed tonight's meeting of the auxiliary which was scheduled today. Margaret Train, president of the auxiliary, announced that the unit will plan a spring membership campaign. Following the business session, refreshments will be served. The meeting will be held in the Bank of Hayward hall.

$1,332 Collected In Speeders' Fine

more than 100 motorists

$1332 in fines for infractions of the motor vehicle laws during March turned over to the county authorities. This represents penalties for approximately 200 motorists arrested for speeding.

In addition, Judge Edgar reported $111 turned into the city treasury as a result of violations of local ordinances, and $125.66 allotted to the State as its half in a fine for pure food law violation.

Hayward Scouts to Meet at Livermore

HAYWARD, April 7.—(The) of Hayward Boy Scouts will officially arrive at the incentive ceremony of Livermore Troop 1 to be held at the Livermore grammar school.

Today by U. L. Hopkins, scout executive, and his wife, Mrs. Hopkins.

At this ceremony the Livermore troop will be presented with its badges of office and its scouts with their scout insignia.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Eat, Sleep and Feel Better Every Way

Chicago, Ill.—"I was weak and run down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time and dizzy, and could not sleep and had no appe-

ent medicines for years, but they did not help me. Then I read the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for other women and gave it a trial. I began to eat better and could sleep, and consider it a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to my friends and will never be without it. — Mrs. M. Orr, 3640 S. Marshfield Ave., Chicago, Ill.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so prized by women.

Heaven Will Be Subject Of Dr. Snape

Easter Sunday was the biggest day in the history of the First Baptist church and the same spirit that prevailed then will still obtain in the services on the morrow. Dr. John Snape will conduct the service of "Heaven," taking as his topic "Heaven—What Is It?" He will be preceded by Orley See, first violinist of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra, who will play a masterpiece entitled "The Zanzonetta," by Tchaikovsky, taken from the author's "Violin Concerto."

At the morning service, the presence of communion will be observed and the hand of fellowship given to the many people who were baptized Easter Sunday, as well as to others who have united with the church in recent weeks. Dr. Snape will preach as usual.

Thursday night is a big night for the Roger Williams league, which will unite with a number of evangelical churches and the local Y. M. C. A. in a big "Father and Son" banquet and program at the Y. M. C. A. beginning at 8:30. The guest of honor will be Dr. W. J. Sherman, pastor of the Central Methodist church of San Francisco, who has a vital message for men and boys. All men of the church and congregation are urged to attend with their sons and, if they have no sons, adopt some for the occasion.

The young people of the church and all their friends are looking forward to Friday evening, April 20, when three one-act plays will be given by the Teacher Training class of the Bible school to raise funds with which to equip the Hand Work room of the Junior Department. "Enter the Hero," "Mr. and Mrs. P. Roe" and "The Dust of the Road" will be produced.

Post-Easter Music Offered In Many Churches

Former Pastor Fills First Christian Pulpit

First Baptist, Berkeley

An oratorio choral service will be rendered by the choir of the First Baptist church, Berkeley, tomorrow evening. Music selections will include Rossini's "Stabat Mater," Combs' "The Vision of St. John" and Handel's "The Messiah."

The choir of forty voices under the direction of Percy A. R. Dow, assisted by the soloists and concertists, will sing a notable program. Urie Nelson will be at the organ. The choir soloists include: Mrs. J. Parke Upshur, soprano; Mrs. Florence R. Brown, contralto; Miss Myrtle L. Palmer, contralto; George R. Hunter, tenor; Cyril A. Cross, baritone.

Dr. Elijah A. Hanley will speak at the morning service on "The Work of One Denomination." Music at the morning service includes "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears" (Vision, St. John), "My Hope Is in the Everlasting" (Daughter of Jairus) Stainer.

First Lutheran

Miss Mabel Dyer, sister of Dr. Wendell S. Dyer, the pastor of the church, will speak tomorrow morning at the "Lutheran Church." Miss Dyer is a missionary of the Lutheran church in Liberia, West Africa. She is now en route from her home in Los Angeles to the mission station in Africa. She is visiting her brother over Sunday and will speak to his congregation. Miss Dyer is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Her subject will be "The Eucharist and Christ." In the evening, the pastor will preach, "The subject is 'Common Sense in Religion.'"

BAPTIST CHURCH WOMEN HOLD ANNUAL MEET

The annual luncheon and business meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Over 250 women gathered around the luncheon tables to hear the reports of the work of the past year. Progress along all lines was reported.

Women of the church made 2841 calls during the year. Missionary boxes were sent to China, Mexico, Russia, American Indians, Oakland Juvenile Court and Russian settlement work in San Francisco, and to many needy families in Oakland. $3094 was raised during the year for all purposes.

New officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Mrs. J. M. Davis, first vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Spares, second vice-president, Mrs. M. J. Thomas, secretary, Mrs. C. A. Reed, treasurer, Mrs. H. A. Makinson.

On next Tuesday, April 10, all newly formed circles of the Auxiliary will meet at the church at 9 p. m. to organize for the work of the coming year. A good program will precede the circle meetings and light refreshments and a social time will follow. Dr. Kirby from Assam will speak.

SUBJECT TO BE "ANTICHRIST"
The pastor of the First United Brethren church will deliver the second of a series of sermons on the subject of the Antichrist tomorrow at the church at 11 a. m. The subject will be "Antichrist in Politics." Some popular theories upon the subject will be examined in the light of Scripture, to find what the Bible really teaches. At 7:30 p. m. the subject will be "The Teachings of Genesis, and The Teachings of Science."

In a number of Eastbay churches tomorrow there will be elaborate music programs. In some cases the regular Easter music will be repeated. An outstanding program is that of the First Baptist church, Berkeley.

Rev. George W. Sweeney will speak at the First Christian church tomorrow morning. Dr. Sweeney is one of the best known ministers in the Christian church and was a former pastor here.

First Congregational

The preacher at the First Congregational church tomorrow morning will be Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher, recently pastor of the Congregational church of Boise, Ida, and a speaker of national reputation. Dr. Fisher will give the first of two post-Easter sermons on the general theme "The Crisis of the Church Today." The topic for tomorrow's sermon is "The Church Is It a Respectable Relic or an Eternal Essential? Has It a Program or a Future?"

The sermon will ask the question, "What did Jesus mean by the Christian church is a movement rather than an organization, a church of the eternal, untitled, a church of world revolution and of limitless evolution, with a great and comprehensive world program. Dr. Fisher will give the second sermon of this series on the topic, "The First Congregational church of Oakland Does It Need a Padlock or a Preacher?" On April 15, The program for the evening service will center around the thought of the Community Chest campaign. The picture, "I Know a Garden," will be shown by way of prologue. This is a selection of the most beautiful scenes ever taken up to the present time in color photography. Following this picture, Rev. Ralph C. Waddell, the acting pastor, will speak briefly on "The Christ Spirit and the Community Chest." The service will close with another Prizma picture, "The Good Spirit," showing scenes connected with the birth of Christ.

GREATHEART TO BE BERKELEY PASTOR'S THEME

Dr. Robert F. Leavens, pastor, will preach on the sermon subject "Greatheart," at tomorrow morning's service at 11 o'clock at the First Unitarian church, Berkeley.

Harvey Lov, organist, will render as a prelude, "Virgin's Prayer" (Mozart); offertory, "Allegretto Grazioso" (Touret), and, as postlude, "Festal March" (Calkins). Grace Savage Gibb will be soloist.

The church school meets at 9:45 in charge of Dr. Caroline Cook Coffin, supervisor of instruction. The study is "De of Good Church."

The Church Club meets at 7:30 for discussion of the topic, "Public vs. Private Education." Robert Craik is leader.

REVIVAL SERVICES.
The revival services at Elmhurst Christian church are continuing through next week. The attendance has been good and interest is growing, several persons having been baptized last Sunday evening. Mr. Morgan will speak tomorrow morning on "The Church at the Foot of the Mountain," and in the evening on "The Gospel Throughout the Ages."

BARBARIANS MEET OLIMPICS IN FINAL GAME TOMORROW

SANTA CLARA AND ST. MARY'S BASEBALL NINES ARE READY FOR FIRST GAME OF SERIES

Santa Clara Series Opens With Saints

Rival College Nines Meet in Mission Town in the First Game.

UNIVERSITY OF SANTA CLARA, April 7.—Santa Clara will entertain the St. Mary's nine here tomorrow afternoon in the opening game of the annual three-game series on the diamond, and Coach Joe Autrecoche is hopeful of putting over a win in the first game.

Santa Clara has played a weird brand of ball all season, boots figuring prominently in nearly every game, and the infield has yet to worry through a game without scrambling from one to three or more chances.

SMOOTH-WORKING CLUB. St. Mary's, on the other hand, appears to have one of the smoothest fielding clubs assembled by any college in recent years. The injury to Curly Gardner, the star St. Mary's first sacker, in the second game of the Stanford series was expected to break the winning stride of the Oakland collection.

But George White has proved more than capable at the initial sack, and the team has played as good, if not better, ball since that accident.

By defeating California, Coach Madigan's men showed themselves to be a hard-hitting aggregation while Lindholm stood the Blue and Gold batters on their ears in two games of the three-game series.

Aside from Lindholm, the Saints are shy of pitchers able to go the route. Big Snow has been developed into a capable chucker this season, while Speed Maddock, when right, is able to hold his own.

Santa Clara will probably be represented on the hill by Pendergast, with Holman in reserve.

PENDERGAST A "COMER." Pendergast pitched a nifty article of ball in the final game against California and with a little support would have been able to beat the Bears.

Shifting Johnny Logan to short and putting Toso on first base proved to make a workable combination in the inner patch, Vukota at second holding his own with any college second baseman seen in action this year.

In the outfield Randazzo and Bell are a couple of reliable hitters and clever fielders, both being unusually fast and capable of covering a world of territory.

The second and third games of the series with St. Mary's will be played in San Francisco at Recreation Park on Sunday, April 15 and April 22, according to word from Graduate Manager LeFevre of St. Mary's.

Medicine Chest May Be Useful In This Game.

Al Lacoste, manager of the baseball team of Oakland Lodge of Elks No. 171, was a visitor at one of our big drug stores this morning. Al placed an order for a half dozen bottles of iodine, a couple of bottles of iodine, a couple of bottles of iodine and whatever equipment that goes with an emergency medicine chest. Al has placed Bill Raab, his speedy fly chaser, in charge of the chest and Bill will have to run at full speed every time that Lacoste gives him the high sign at the Oakland Coast League park tomorrow morning.

Lacoste says the emergency chest will be a useful article tomorrow morning. He does not mean that his ball players will need it, but believes that some of the old timers who will wear the uniforms of the Elks-Bears "Players" will have lots of use for such a chest. The old-time ball players connected with the lodge, such as William (Doc) Moskman, Bill Knightly, Bill Devereaux, Bill Smith and Coach "Stan" Jones, think that Lacoste has a team that can beat them, so a team between the old timers and Lacoste's team will be played at the Coast League tomorrow.

Lacoste says it will be a case of experience conquering youth. However, Lacoste has a nifty team to represent the Elks in the field this summer. Tomorrow's game will just be a practice affair, but the old timers have made up their minds to beat their younger teammates.

Bruin Boxers to Meet U.S.C. Team. UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 7.—California varsity boxers will meet U. S. C. tonight at 7:30 in Harmon Gymnasium in a return engagement and Coach "Stan" Jones looks for a decisive victory by his men.

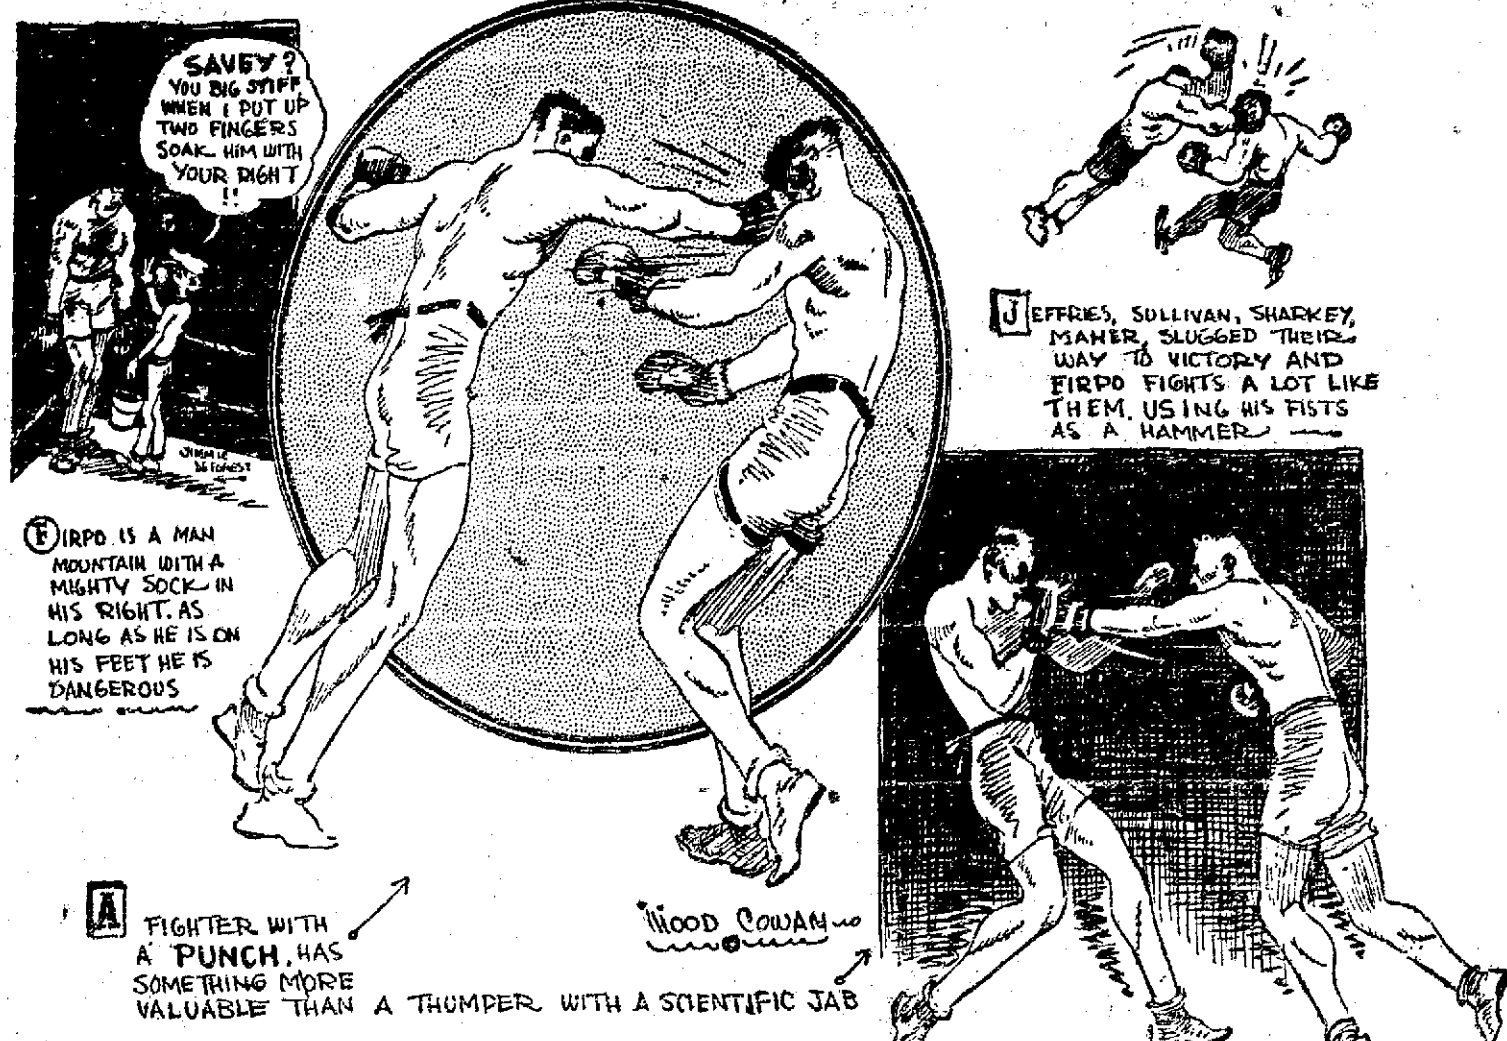

The Bruins met the Trojans two weeks ago and took three out of five decisions, losing two matches on close decisions.

There will be six regular bouts and one exhibition match and as all of the Bruin entries are in shape some high class bouts are in order. The following men have been selected by Coach Jones for the matches: Caldwell, 115 pounds; Parker, Beck or Thomas, 125 pounds (two to be selected); Jones, 145 pounds; Dave Elmont, 145 pounds; Reed and O'Donnell, 175 pounds; Lee and Haskell will meet at 105 pounds in the exhibition match.

Leaves For London. VANCOUVER, B. C. April 7.—The British Columbia golfers are to leave London, England, in a few days to become professional for the Point Grey Golf and Country Club and to play a nine-hole match on May 1.

Firpo's Punch vs. the Scientific Jab

--By Wood Cowan

It is very apparent that one Luis Firpo is going to figure prominently in the selection of an adversary for the heavyweight championship. Since he has been in the ring, he has been not a little discussion and controversy over whether Firpo can or cannot fight. Some say he is a cave man and knows nothing about the many art of self-defense. In fact, many think he should be barred from the ring until he learns the rudiments of boxing.

Take a look back and let's judge the past performances of champions before they became champions and see how they stack up with Firpo's style of thumping.

Take Jim Jeffries—for many an old-timer is wont to compare Firpo with Jim—when he came out on his first trip, to fight Bob Armstrong. Jeffries weighed about 220, same as Firpo. He didn't know the thing about boxing—he just rushed and slugged. Armstrong hit him with everything known to pugilism in the line of wallops, but Jeff kept wading in. His steel jaw was immune to the best Armstrong had. His punches didn't make the least impression on the burly Jeff. Firpo is about as good in ring craft, strength, gameness and ability as Jeffries was at that time.

Yet Jeffries, who could take it and in turn possessed a wallop of his own became champion and defeated such a scientific boxer as Corbett.

Bob Fitzsimmons was all but out in his championship fight with Corbett at Carson City. Jim took a punching bag out of Bob, but one punch put Corbett away. Fitz possessed the wallop and he'd wait round after round for an opening to send it home. Bob never was a clever boxer, but his wallop made him champion.

John L. Sullivan was another slugger. Not only did the mighty John possess a punch that he displayed the most ferocious frown in all ring history. Fact is, Sullivan, Jeffries, Sharkey, Maher all slugged their way to victory by main strength and awkwardness. And Firpo fights much after this style. He is dangerous as long as he's on his feet, for you can never tell when one of his wild swings will reach a vital spot on his opponent.

The burly Argentinean can be taught to box. He is a natural fighter—fearless, aggressive, powerful and game—and should develop into one of the hardest hitters the ring has known for some moons.

What has won in the past and made heavyweight champions proves that the fighter with a wallop has something more valuable than the thumper with a scientific jab.

Dempsey Made Big Offer for Montana Fight

Kane, Tom Gibbons' Manager, Says Champ Will Have Chance For Action.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 7.—Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, has been made a bona fide offer of $200,000 to meet Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul in a 15-round bout to a decision at Shelby, Mont., on July 4, according to Mike Collins, Minneapolis boxing promoter, and Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, who were in Milwaukee last night.

According to Collins and Kane $150,000 is already in a bank in Montana. Dempsey has been informed, Collins said last night, that $50,000 will be turned to him upon his signature on articles; another $50,000 will be deposited in a Montana bank to be paid Dempsey in case the fight does not go through and that the champion would be paid $100,000 twenty-four hours prior to his entering the ring for the contest.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, has asked Collins to grant him a few days to consider the proposition, according to the promoter.

"If Dempsey really wants to fight, here is his opportunity," Collins said last night.

Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, said he firmly believes that Dempsey does not want to meet Gibbons.

All arrangements with state officials of Montana have been completed to hold the proposed fight under the auspices of the American Legion post of Montana without interference, Mr. Collins said.

The promoter has been in Montana for the greater part of the last month arranging details for the proposed championship bout and says everything is now completed with the exception of Dempsey's signature to the articles of the agreement.

Tom Gibbons, who was defeated by Dempsey in a ten-round decision at Los Angeles, last night, is expected to arrive in Montana tomorrow.

Says N. Y. Bank.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The rate of farm wages in the United States declined during the three months from October 1, 1922, to January 1, 1923, at a rate varying according to the month and the geographical area by the month without board the decline was 2.1 per cent and with board 4 per cent, while day wages without board declined 5.8 per cent, and with board 6.4 per cent. The lowest decline was in the great grain states west of the Mississippi River, ranging from 0.1 per cent to 13.9 per cent, and smallest in the South Central and North Atlantic States. The Central States without board actually showed a slight increase during the three-month period, amounting to .2 per cent, according to figures prepared by the Bureau of Labor and Commerce.

The buck says "The predominant method of hiring in all parts of the country is by the month with board. The recent decline brings wages in the Central States to only 13 per cent above the 1913 level, representing the highest degree of de-

U. S. COMPANIES SEEK OIL RIGHTS FROM ALBANIA

Both Sinclair and Standard Interests Reported Anxious to Get Concessions.

PARIS, April 6 (By the Associated Press).—Efforts are being made by U. S. companies of various nationalities to secure oil concessions in Albania, according to information reaching Paris. Thus far, however, these efforts have resulted only in a British project obtaining the approval of oil concessions in Albania. Up to date this approval has not been ratified by the Albanian parliament.

It is said the Standard Oil Company and the Sinclair Company have representatives at Tirana, where the Albanian parliament is sitting, but that the cabinet will not consider their propositions until parliament has disposed of the British project.

The Anglo-Persian Company in April, 1921, secured a concession from the cabinet then in power for the right to search for oil and develop the concessions by petroleum. Under the agreement 49 per cent of the oil was to go to Albania and 51 per cent to the company. The surveys, however, have not been made, pending ratification of the concession by parliament. Ratification may take place during the present sitting, which is to last three months.

There have been offers from French concerns to grant concessions in Albania. The Italians have not made much headway with their proposals since Italy evacuated Albania in 1920. At that time Italian were working wells near Avana, but because of the war their departure from the country.

SOME NEW INDUSTRIES.

With lengthened stride Oakland continues her march. Manufacturing announcements which a few years ago would have been heralded with wide display are made here each week. It is an established fact that 90 per cent of the large industries who have investigated Pacific Coast sites have selected the Eastbay. With each decision Oakland has gained in prestige until now no manufacturer would consider an establishment upon the Pacific without including this city with those which necessarily must be investigated.

Indicating the expansion of Oakland and the recognition which it is being given, may be found in a part of the record of this week. The Detroit Steel Products Company, a nationally known concern which manufactures steel sashes, has purchased a block of land here and will start at once in the erection of the first unit of a large plant.

With this announcement, comes another from the head of the Hayes Wheel Company of Jackson, Mich., that this city has been tentatively selected as the site for a factory to make automobile wheels. The Hayes Company is the largest producer of automobile wheels in the world and among its customers are companies which have automobile manufacturing and assembling plants in this city.

In connection with this latest decision the new spirit which is actuating the Bay cities has been strikingly displayed. At a luncheon in San Francisco to C. D. Hayes, president of the company, speakers from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce joined with those of Oakland in urging this city as the logical site.

The coming of the wheel company and the attitude of the entire Bay community in recognizing Oakland as the automobile center of the Pacific West increases the strength and leadership of the city. Automobile companies which will turn out more than 130,000 cars this year are located in Oakland; two manufacturers of motor car bodies, two battery plants, two tire companies and makers of accessories are here. The wheel company will be a welcome addition and the announcement that the Detroit Steel Products Company is planning to make automobile springs in addition to steel sashes is another indication that the establishment of the Eastbay as the automobile manufacturing center is bringing here a large number of closely allied concerns.

The additions to manufacturing Oakland cited here are revealed in the news of one day. They are a few of the many that are attracting a national attention to this city.

SOVIET RUNS MAD.

The glorious story which Lenin and Trotsky were going to set down for posterity is being written in blood. At this momentous hour, the Soviet has announced, to execute clergy-men, and to stamp out insurrection.

Where would Lenin and Trotsky be if it were not for insurrection? Their lives and their deeds have been held up as proof of a number of interesting economic theories. Before they were lifted into power and felt the responsibility and the opportunities, they were to be found among those who preached the liberties of the individual to protest, the rights of the people to change their government. The Soviet which was planned and which was outlined in the early days was an institution of equal opportunities. Enthusiasts hailed it as the true democracy.

Today the Soviet army is arresting men in all parts of Russia because it is afraid of the opinions those men hold. It is executing priests because it knows men and women pay attention to what priests say, it is carrying on a ruthless warfare in the Georgian Republic for the purposes of conquest.

The acts of the Soviet are confessions of its failure. The doctrine of might makes right has been discovered useful by Lenin. The officials of the heralded model democracy are trembling behind one of the world's greatest military machines. They are afraid of that which they have reason to know is powerful—the voice of the people.

THE SAAR SITUATION.

The reason the Saar situation is not as critical as that in the Ruhr is because treaty provisions force a slower development to the critical stage. France wished to annex the Saar Valley and argued to that end during the peace negotiations. The world remembers that the United States and England objected, that President Wilson ordered the George Washington made ready for his immediate departure, and then a compromise was reached.

The result was that France was allowed to operate Saar mines to recompense for losses in Northern France and the government of the valley was turned over to a commission of five members appointed by the Council of the League of Nations. In 1935 the inhabitants are to decide by a plebiscite whether they wish the present regime continued, or would be annexed to France or Germany.

In the meantime French capitalists have acquired the majority stock in the Saar industries and the French influence is felt in government. The aim of France and of Germany will be to control the plebiscite. Statesmen see in the situation one leading toward trouble and there is an effort being made toward a solution in advance of the date set by treaty.

Were it not for the more grave situation in the Ruhr that of the Saar would be commanding a large share of public interest today.

A NEW PORT.

Within a month New Orleans will be introduced to the world as a port of vastly improved facilities. On May 5 will be celebrated the completion of the most notable and pretentious harbor program of recent years.

New Orleans has recognized the value of an inner harbor. It did not possess the advantages which are Oakland's in the estuary but does own a lake. The inner harbor has been created by digging a canal, with locks large enough for the largest vessels, from the eastern end of the city to Lake Pontchartrain. From this canal there are many laterals, one of them designed as a future channel to the sea parallel with the Mississippi.

With the opening of the inner harbor will be a conference of the commercial interests of the Mississippi Valley to promote the revival of transportation on that river. The second port in the United States is the greatest river port for ocean vessels and it remembers the days when the Mississippi was crowded with freight and passenger carriers.

Development of the port of New Orleans will have its effects on the Pacific. The success of the venture there will stimulate similar action. Perhaps the words of the New Orleans Port Commission will be of pertinent interest in Oakland, and elsewhere:

There are many people who have not realized the part that ports play, not only in the lives of their inhabitants, but in the lives of those in the regions served by the various ports. Every ton of American imports or exports pays, on the average, one way or another, several dollars to the ports of America. Most of this is for labor. The most efficient ports operate on the average, at half the cost of the least efficient. Port terminal charges do not appear on the surface. They appear in many guises, but they are always there. The public pays them. They cannot be escaped, but they should be minimized.

IN SIX YEARS.

When the world reviews the seemingly endless series of conferences devoted to the bringing of peace in Europe, when it waxes impatient at the delays in settlement of reparations claims and at the tedious nerve wracking situation in the Ruhr, there is disposition to predict that nations will never recover from the effects of the world war. The rehabilitation program in France is under way full swing. Each month sees villages restored, the scarred battlefields are shrinking.

There is no fear and I think that the world will run wild through Europe; England and the United States have agreed upon terms; France is offering concessions which may mean an end to the Ruhr occupation. The future, regarding these years as pages in the history books, may even wonder that recovery has been so rapid. There was never such a war and heavily. To be sure the conciliatory movement of the scattered parts has seemed slow in the face of the general and pressing desire of war-stricken countries for a return to settled conditions, but there is this to be borne in mind: It was only six years ago yesterday that the United States declared war on Germany.

Texas possesses a unique Congressman in E. W. Cole, Democrat. He has been elected and certified to a seat which does not exist. Last November this man induced the Democratic State Committee to certify him as a Congressman-at-large, and was elected. Now he is trying to sue the Government for his salary and force them to give him an office room and a seat. The answer to the ambitions statesman is that there is no such office in Texas, a little detail which, somehow, he and the Democratic Committee overlooked.

LAST OF THE PHUTIES.
When the Phut Indians went on to Scott was sent west to parley with the chiefs and handled his mission so well that Chief Old Pecky and his son gave themselves up voluntarily to the federal authorities. The dispute between the Indians and the soldiers was dispensed of for the time being. It is now recognized and the tiny tribe has once more defied the authority of the United States. A number of United States Marshals, bent on putting down the revolt, are in imminent danger, according to Gen. Scott, of exterminating the whole tribe.

The time when an Indian uprising was serious for white pioneers is so long past that not many remember it. Nowadays it is the Indian, not the white man, who is menaced. Revolt is followed so suddenly by vengeance that the chief concern of an intelligent officer is likely to be the preservation of enough red men to keep up the traditions of the tribe. The Phute has been vanishing. He does not take kindly to our civilization. It is a tragic fact that the harder he tries to break its bonds the more difficult it becomes to delay his exit from modern history.

No sooner does Mr. Bryan get evolution suppressed in Kentucky than it breaks out with increased virulence in Minnesota.—Syracuse Herald.

THE CALL THAT MAKES US WILD TO GO!

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

Oregonian: "Uncle Joe Cannon, now in the shade of the approaching 70s, having closed a career of half a century in Congress, is in a position to give advice to the young. Being asked what he regards as the chief requirements for success, he unhesitatingly names industry and ambition. He might have shortened this to one word, since ambition implies industry if it deserves the name."

Baltimore American: "There is but one way to get good government and that way is to select the right kind of men to carry on the public business. A good scheme of government is helpful, but the most perfect piece of governmental machinery will function poorly unless its operation is in the hands of the right sort of men. That is a truism."

Oregonian: "German girls are reported coming over by the shipload to find American husbands. It may knock some of the conceit out of our young men to learn that it isn't on account of their manly virtues that they are so popular abroad, but largely because over in Europe every American is supposed to be a million air."

Reason Transcript: "Realizing that every advance of a cent a pound in the price of sugar represents a per cent cost of 90 cents a year, every citizen of 90 cents a year ought to be getting to do something about it. Why not figure out what it means to the American people when a dollar or so is added to the price of a ton of coal?"

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: "Rohshevism is as dead morally as it is spiritually. Witness the argument submitted for exemption from responsibility for the debts of the Kerensky and Romanoff governments. By such reasoning, the people may wipe out its debts by merely overthrowing the government under which the debt was contracted and setting up another government. In short, bolshevism assumes to be a law unto itself, unhampered by the principles of civilization, privileged to make or break agreements as suits its interest, disdainful of the commercial obligations of bourgeois society, a chartered deed bent and murderer, whose great mission is to spread across the earth the degradation it has heaped upon Russia."

Seattle Times: "In the controversy over the question of whether Nor. McGuffey or McGuffey wrote the spelling book, it is about time somebody suggested that it must have been McGuffey because Noah built the ark."

Chicago News: "In Peking the government furnished 467 coffins for people who starved or froze to death in the streets in January. This is afforded a picture of Chinese city life that cannot be fully understood without a trip to China."

Detroit Free Press: "There is to be another Near East conference. The fellow who first declared human hope unquenchable knew what he was talking about."

one of the great unrolled mysteries of our big cities is why people like to gather in a crowd and watch the pick-and-shovel brigade dig a hole in the ground. It's a curiosity that isn't limited to cities. Go out into the country, start digging, and it'll be just a matter of minutes until the farmer will climb down off his tractor or desert his plow and bury across the field to watch.—Stockton Record.

THE PIONEER.
Let the world think what it may,
I've seen a light—
I have been shown the way to what is right.
This is my duty. Though I stand alone

To dare for truth, until the truth be known.
I shall press on, in spite of libel or sneer—
It is my lot to play the pioneer.

The many cannot know and do not see.
What I have found and is so clear
to me,
Yet to the light I have I must be true.
Although the world may mock at all I do.

One must go first to make the pathway clear—
God keep me strong to play the pioneer.

The world has laughed and sneered
at men before Whom now it kneels to honor and adore,
Who broke with custom shall by men be cursed.
Rough is the road for him who travels first.
Yet one must brave the death of many fear—
God help me now to play the pioneer.

LEGITIMACY FOR "HOKUM."

The word "hokum" should be on the 1924 of Webster's Unabridged or on page 1118 of the Standard Dictionary. It is in neither place. Nor is it in the slang-book or on the public library list of words heard but never seen. According to a dictionary, "hokum" was failed to find a place among the vocabularies because of a perplexing uncertainty as to its origin and precise meaning. Everybody seems to be aware of the word, but nobody in authority has known its how or why.

term may get into the next editions of the big lexicons, for the word has proved its worth.

man in the street and has acquired a bunch of definitions sufficient to give "hokum" a standing in the most exacting of verbal circles. Apparently the term is "born of the stage, where it means anything that gets a laugh without a thought, and has been established as the word for almost any form of humbug.—New York World.

Courting in the Ozarks.
"How did you happen to quit sparking Miss Tootie Bender?" asked an acquaintance.

"I don't like music, that's why," disgruntledly replied an Ozark swain. "Every night I was over there, just as soon as I got seated old man Bender would come in and take down his infernal fiddle and begin to play. The longer he'd play the tinner I'd get and then finally when only 'bout 'leven o'clock he'd begin to saw off 'Home, Sweet Home,' I couldn't stand any more of it and lit out. And I ain't going back there neither!"—Kansas City Star.

PERSONAL SERVICE

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

THE HYGIENE OF SWEATING.

A well person clothed sweat two or three quarts a day. The temperature of the air immediately surrounding the body of a clothed person is approximately 89.8 degrees Fahrenheit under ordinary conditions, and there is a constant insensible or invisibly fine perspiration going on at that temperature. When the surrounding temperature reaches a point slightly over 91 degrees, a marked increase of sweating begins, in proportion with the increasing temperature, and the sweat becomes visible.

Right here is where many a squeamish person begins to quarrel with his or her health. Sweat is so vulgar, according to the more interesting pages of our popular magazines, that a lady or gentleman should never be caught sweating.

Not that it matters so much whether one sweats a quart or a gallon a day. Sweat is practically nothing but water and a pinch of salt anyhow. So far as elimination of any waste matter or poisonous products in the sweat is concerned it is immaterial how much one sweats. The important purpose of sweating is the regulation of body temperature; the fact that one sweats freely rather than indicates an active metabolism, which means good health. Although sweating is a normal function of the body, it is not a disease condition, as a general rule invalids and those whose way of living favors invalidism, do not sweat very much.

A mere trace of carbon dioxide (carbonic acid gas) is excreted in the sweat when sweating is profuse, but this amounts to an insignificant amount, less than one-half of 1 per cent of the amount ordinarily given off by the lungs. The sweat itself is slightly alkaline, but it takes a slightly acid reaction from admixture with the sebum. This acid reaction is due to fatty acids derived from the oily or fatty matter of the sebum. The characteristic sour or sometimes disagreeable odor of sweat is also due to traces of lactic, butyric and other fatty acids. The sweat contains no uric acid or urea, but sometimes contains minute traces of urea, which is a normal waste product of metabolism.

For the same reason that the suppression or retention of sweat produces no poisonous effect there is no advantage derived from artificial sweating in the hope of eliminating poisonous or waste matter from the system. For the sweat carries no poison or waste from the body, practically speaking. The does not mean that various sweat baths are a part of value in the treatment of disease conditions, for they often do great good, say in heart disease with dropsy.

The good sweating goes is rather vicarious. Enough exercise to produce sweating is a sure stimulus to metabolism, causing an increased absorption of oxygen in the body; the oxygen helps to burn poisons and waste matters. The sweat is a gauge of the metabolic activity. If you are not squeamish about sweating, enjoy in reality the effects of the alleged tonics and blood purifiers which but do not produce.

Sweat and keep well.

Not His, But Wife's Will.

"Before I married," said the middle-aged man, "I was a very extravagant. I went to theaters and dances all the time, smoked cigars, drank champagne. But now—well, I live a quiet life at home, smoke and drink water."
"What a strong will it must need to change like that," said the young bachelor.

"Yes, she has a very strong will," replied the married man.—Pearson's Weekly, London.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

The newly elected members of the city council and board of public works, accompanied by Mayor Olney, made a tour of the city Sunday afternoon to ascertain the needs of the municipality. P. E. Bowles, president of the Oakland U. C. club, has called for another meeting of the club to be held in honor of Governor Parden. The club will close the year on an even keel financially. If there is any balance it will be small, but there will be no deficit. For some time past residents in the neighborhood of the Longfellow school, Alameda, have been annoyed by a crowd of young men and half-grown boys who have made the steps of that building their rendezvous. School Superintendent Hughes has reported the matter to the city attorney.

GRAND JURY GIVES BRADY CLEAR NAME

Mrs. W. B. Hamilton of Vigilant Committee Fails to Prove Her Charges Against District Attorney of S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Failure of Mrs. W. B. Hamilton of the Vigilant committee to produce specific instances in support of her charges that the office of District Attorney Matthew Brady was in a "deplorable condition," the grand jury late last night brought in findings to the effect that her statements referring to irregularities in the office were unfounded.

Mrs. Hamilton was called before the grand jury yesterday afternoon and asked to give concrete examples of dereliction of duty in Brady's office, such as she had charged.

"If you can convince us that District Attorney Brady is guilty of irregularity in the conduct of his office, we members of the grand jury will so find, and request the attorney-general of California to appoint his successor," she was told.

PROOF IS LACKING.

Mrs. Hamilton replied that she was unable to give specific instances. She insisted, however, that her charges were true.

"I have said the last three days have conditions in the prosecuting attorney's office been so deplorable," she declared.

After twenty minutes of questioning Mrs. Hamilton was excused from the jury chamber.

She still refused, however, to abandon her accusations.

"It was to be expected that the grand jury would make such a finding," she said. "The jury was antagonistic toward me from the time I entered the room until I left. When I told them I could produce no concrete examples in support of my charges, a number of them exclaimed:

"Well, there's no use wasting any more time on her! and then they excused me. Notwithstanding that everything was cut and dried, I still stick to my charge that conditions in the district attorney's office are deplorable."

FINDINGS UNANIMOUS.

The grand jury's findings, to the effect that Mrs. Hamilton's charges were unfounded, were endorsed by every member of the jury who was present.

When told of the grand jury's action, District Attorney Brady said:

"The finding of the grand jury speaks for itself. Beyond it I have nothing to say."

Denial that the grand jury showed hostility toward Mrs. Hamilton was made by Secretary Brainard.

"We simply asked her time and again to cite a specific instance wherein Brady or any of his assistants were guilty of misconduct in office," he said. "Mrs. Hamilton failed to do so even after she was requested by eight or ten different jurors. When we found she was unable to produce a single instance of dereliction of duty on Brady's part, there was nothing else to do but give him a clean bill of health."

KIWANIS AT SAN LEANDRO PLANNED

SAN LEANDRO, April 7.—Representatives of the Oakland Kiwanis club met with ten local businessmen and city officials yesterday noon at the Hotel Hamilton to consider organization of such an order in San Leandro. The purpose of the Kiwanis club were explained.

The following local men were present: W. J. Gannon, justice of the peace; Prof. W. O. Davies, supervising principal of the grammar schools; A. S. Weaver, president of the state bank; Dr. C. H. Miller, L. H. Bill, president of the Chamber of Commerce; J. Allison Bruner, city attorney; Farley B. Granger, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

To conduct a thorough investigation and to determine advisability of forming such an organization here, temporary officers were chosen as follows: B. Hancock, president; J. Allison Bruner, treasurer; and W. O. Davies, secretary.

Japan Gets Last of Chinese Students

TOKYO, April 7.—The Chinese government has decided to discontinue the system of sending students to Japan at the government's expense, the provinces which contributed part of the money having been irregular in their payments.

At present there are in Tokyo 127 Chinese students matriculating at the Tokyo Imperial University; 158 at the Tokyo higher normal school; 175 at the Tokyo university of commerce; 117 at various other government schools; and 1071 at various public and private schools. It is said that these Chinese students are, on the whole, not inferior to the Japanese either in scholarship or personality and that they are making an important contribution to their studies.

FABIOLA OPENS $20,000 WING AS HOME OF NURSES

The $20,000 wing of the Nurses' Home of Fabiola Hospital was formally opened yesterday afternoon at a reception arranged by the officers and directors of the association. Several hundred guests inspected the comfortable quarters which will accommodate twenty-four nurses, besides furnishing them with comfortable dining and recreation rooms. The structure, which has been remodelled to harmonize with the full plant will take care of eighty-five young women who will be at the service of the hospital. The home will offer quarters to the girls in training as well as to visiting nurses.

DECORATIONS ARE FINE.

Particular attention has been given in the new wing to the interior decoration. Mahogany and wicker furniture have been carefully chosen. The unit contains twelve steam-heated rooms in addition to the community rooms. It is located at 3787 Piedmont avenue.

The rapid growth of the city has made necessary increased hospital facilities. Fabiola is meeting the emergency with a broad program of extension work which includes not only adequate housing accommodations for nurses, but additional facilities for taking care of the sick. Construction work is going rapidly forward on a four-story fireproof building, located at Moss avenue and Broadway, replacing the Dottie Cook Annex for Convalescent Children.

In the meantime every available room in the hospital is being used to house the patients and give them the care they require. The library of the hospital has been remodelled for a children's ward to meet urgent needs.

GUESTS RECEIVED.

The construction program is under the personal supervision of Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, president of the board of directors and members of the board of directors assisted in receiving the guests who attended the tea which opened the new wing of the Nurses' Home yesterday. The hostesses included: Mrs. William E. Moller, Mrs. Walter E. Moller, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Mrs. D. E. Easterbrook, Mrs. Violet Whitney, Mrs. H. J. Knowles, Mrs. Q. A. Chase, Mrs. J. G. A. "on. Seattle Ku Klux Cyclops Quits Job

SEATTLE, April 7.—Following the discovery by a Seattle newspaper that he was "E. C. Klockman," exalted cyclops of Seattle Klan No. 4 of the Ku Klux Klan, W. W. When Woodbridge admitted that he was "Klockman," he said that publication of his connection with the Klan would do him great harm in business. He afterward wrote a letter of resignation, and it was been accepted.

ALLEN TRIAL ARGUMENTS TO RESUME

Judge Indicates Death Car and Other Exhibits Will Be Admitted As Evidence Despite Defense Objections

When the trial of Harry Allen, charged with murder, opens again Monday, further arguments will be heard by Superior Judge H. L. Preston. Allen is alleged to have killed Walter Dowdy, former Palo Alto automobile dealer, by beating him with an ax.

The prosecution scored a victory yesterday afternoon when Judge Preston indicated that he would admit into evidence practically all of the exhibits offered by the prosecution. These include the alleged death-ax, automobile in which Allen and Dowdy were riding when the murder is alleged to have occurred, blood-stained currency, a bloodstained hat, and numerous other articles.

The defense objected to every one of the articles, twenty-seven in number. Arguments were heard on all of the objections during the day, except the objections to the introduction of a receipt book containing a receipt which the prosecution alleges was used by Allen as a bit to influence Dowdy to start on the fatal trip with him.

Further arguments were heard on a motion by the defense to strike from the record all of the testimony of E. O. Heinrich as to the direction taken by Allen, state of mind, and other matters on the death car.

Food Handlers' Physical Quiz Law Proposed

The much-discussed law compelling food-handlers in Oakland to submit to physical examination is now being prepared by the city attorney at the request of Commissioner Frank Colburn, and will be introduced shortly in the city council, according to food department officials.

"We've got to come to it," says Food Inspector Harry Smith. "There has been much objection to the ordinance, and very just objections in some instances, but such a law should be passed to protect the citizens."

Smith asserts that much of the opposition comes from those who do not understand the law. "The idea is to eliminate those food-handlers who have communicable diseases," says Smith. "There is nothing stringent about that. We argue that persons with communicable diseases should not handle food."

"The examinations will be simple. The persons with communicable diseases must not handle food for others. That is all there is to it."

The ordinance was first suggested several months ago and discussed from all angles. It was shelved temporarily but, says Smith, it was revived because of the present necessity for action.

LEGION DANCE TONIGHT

SAN LEANDRO, April 7.—Members of the local American Legion post and the Ladies' Auxiliary are expecting a record attendance at their social Easter dance, to be held at St. Joseph's hall tonight. The hall has been elaborately decorated, excellent music has been obtained and refreshments have been arranged for. The profit from the dance will go to the state fund.

NAPA VALLEY EXCURSION IS C. OF C. PLAN

Chamber Committee Leaves to Arrange For First of "Get-Acquainted" Visits to North of State Cities

The first "get-acquainted" excursion of the year under the auspices of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce will run into the Napa valley May 19 and 21, and will include stops at Vallejo, Napa, Calistoga and St. Helena. As the plans now stand, the entire trip will be made by train. This was decided upon at a meeting held in the Hotel Oakland today.

In preparation for this trip, a committee of seven left Oakland this morning to visit each of the cities provided for in the schedule. Martin M. Hoffman, vice-president of the "get-acquainted" committee, heads the group. The other members of the committee are: Max Greenberg, George B. Furniss, C. W. Fox, William T. Vahlberg, N. J. Whelan and William F. Jockell.

This trip will be followed by others into other sections of the State. It is a part of the plan of the "get-acquainted" committee to know all of northern California and to let all of this section of the State know of Oakland.

Last year excursions were run into Sacramento valley and San Joaquin valley, in addition to several one-day excursions to nearby points.

"THE WOMAN AT THE ORGAN"—That is the name of the peculiar rock formation shown at the top of this picture. This photograph was taken in Red Rock Canyon, Kern county, California, by Willard Wood for Earle C. Anthony, Inc.

THE OLDER THIS "NEWS" IS THE BETTER—Caught at the New York postoffice—this latest method of rum smuggling. The bottle of "100 Proof" mailed from Cuba to a Brooklyn address, was placed inside a tightly rolled, solid parcel of newspapers and each end of the tube cleverly plugged with smaller rolls, to look like a solid roll of news.

SPORT FROCK COMING INTO ITS OWN—This frock, for informal and sport occasions, is of a shimmering white tricolette which will be the vogue once more. Blouse and skirt hang loosely and are confined by a belt of the same material. A contrast effect is afforded by the patch of green embroidery on the right, which covers the pocket.
—Keystone Photo.

BULL MONTANA REGISTERS REPOSE—Bull is here shown resting up after the Oakland Press Club Show. He will be seen soon, front view and profile, in "A Punctured Prince," "Glad Rags," and "Robbing 'Em Good," the last named, being a travesty on Robin Hood.

ENOUGH TO RATTLE ANY FITCHER—Billie Dove is here shown at her favorite game, which she is playing during most of her spare time. Billie will be seen soon in "All the Brothers Were Valiant."

SHE WILL MARRY DUKE'S HEIR—Here is a recent photo of Lady Mary Cambridge whose betrothal to the Marquis of Worcester, son and heir of the aged Duke of Beaufort, has just been announced.
—Copyright by Underwood.

ALL READY TO HITCH-UP—An Oakland notary once made a specialty of marriages in "weddings" for couples who might have entertained doubts as to the efficiency of a notary's marital knot-tying. The wagon, we are assured by the photographer, had nothing to do with the notary's matrimonial activities.

The Color Scheme

I passed a store—
 Some time ago—
 And noted with appraising eyes—
 Some hosiery—a silken tan—
 For women only—
 Just why I lingered I can't say—
 But anyway the thought struck me—
 That it would be a gracious thing to do—
 For me to buy a pair or two—
 A little present for my wife—
 And so I did—
 I took them to my smiling wife—
 Who said I was a perfect dear—
 To be so kind and thoughtful—
 The color too was just immense—
 And she would buy a pair of shoes—
 To match them—
 So she went down and bought the shoes—
 And stood before the mirror long—
 And noted that the match was good—
 But still to maintain harmony—
 She'd have to have a new tan hat—
 "I would more like to get a new Tan hat and shoes and hosiery—
 My, wouldn't that be swell—
 I side-stepped for a little while—
 But when she baked an apple pie—
 And also baked some Johnnie cake—
 I felt so dog-gone good, I said—
 "Why certainly you'll have to match—
 Your shoes and stockings—otherwise—
 You'd cut a funny figure"—
 So when the hat came up next day—
 She put tan shoes and stockings on—
 And then the tan sombrero—
 Then turned to me and said—"old dear—
 You are a most exquisite judge—
 Of color combinations—
 I'm going to leave it up to you—
 You'll notice I have on a suit—
 That has a greenish cast to it—
 Which I am sure you'll see at once—
 With tan won't harmonize—
 And it would be an awful shame—
 If I should say these things aside—
 For I had planned to tell my friends—
 Just what a dandy scout you were—
 But if you say we can't afford—
 To buy a dress of tan to match—
 Why I'll not scold—
 It's simply in your hands, my dear—"
 Let those who're single have a heart—
 A finish follows every start—
 I started this—
 Well, now she has a suit of tan—
 Tan hosiery and shoes and fan—
 Tan hat and pair of long kid gloves—
 And now in voice like turtle doves—
 She says if I would dress in tan—
 When I go out with her, etc., etc.—
 Last night I passed a fashion store—
 And saw long hose of silken gray—
 I hurried by.

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy

by Johnny Gruelle

THEN THEY PEERED OUT OF THE HOLE.

It was Raggedy Ann who thought of the scheme to change aprons with Betsy Bonnet String so that if they were captured by the bottle imp and the Geewhiller, they would be able to escape.

So, when the bottle imp and the Geewhiller looked them in the closets, all Raggedy Ann had to do was to shake the magic apron and out came a key to the door, and she and Raggedy Andy then let Betsy Bonnet String out of another closet.

When they left the bottle imp's home, our friends ran in a different direction than that taken by the bottle imp and the Geewhiller and they ran and ran until they had to sit down and rest.

"Now, I believe I had better give you back your magic apron," Raggedy Ann said as she handed the magic apron to Betsy Bonnet String.

Now, when the bottle imp and the Geewhiller left the bottle imp's house they had told Betsy Bonnet String that they would go visit relatives of the Geewhiller for a week. But this was not true, because the only relative the Geewhiller has is the Toonick Quee, who lives in the Toonick Quee's house and who never speaks to the Geewhiller. And so, as they did not have any relatives to visit the bottle imp and the Geewhiller.

Child's History of the HUMAN RACE

by RAYMOND COWLEY

HOW AMERICA GOT ITS NAME.

Americus Vesputius is the man who gave America its name. He lived at the same time as Columbus and Vasco Da Gama. He was a good friend of Columbus.

Vesputius was born in the city of Florence, in northern Italy. He was the third son in a noble family which had lost its money.

When he had grown to manhood Vesputius left Italy and moved to Spain. There are reports that he went on one or two of Columbus' trips to America, but these reports may not be true.

We know however that Vesputius visited the coast of South America in later years. He was then in the service of Portugal and explored the coast of Brazil for his foster-country.

Vesputius had some interesting adventures getting to Brazil a second time. He was captain of one little bit south of the equator one vessel ran on a rock near an island. The admiral ordered Vesputius to look for a good harbor in the island while the other ships were saving the crew from the endangered vessel.

Returning to the vessel, Vesputius found only a single ship left, out of five. The one on the rocks had sunk, the other three had sailed.

A Touch of Spring

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY

Ad Schuster

EVERY spring Mrs. Crandall

Wills eyed her stout and middle-aged husband for symptoms of repentance and wondered what it would be this time. Generally she smiled in-duigently at the whims which seized the usually placid man

with the opening of the buds

and one colored by the ex-cite-ment of the birds. But for all of that, she admitted it was trying.

"Last year," she confided to a friend, "he was taken with the idea of traveling the highways

with a donkey. It was like Stevenson, he said, the true way to commune with the outdoors. It did not last long, and after it was over there was a sleek with afflict and suburban loquacity and a long period during which one must not mention the existence

of any creature even remotely resembling a donkey. Other years it had been as bad. Once he got out to be a sailor, again

he was a poet, and that was the

never-to-be-forgotten year when he entered a forest without provisions and very little of clothes,

determined to emerge well clothed and collected by the exertion

sprightliness he put in his talk,

the odd little ships he inserted

in his talk, and his courtesy, almost odd world manner. Then

she began to receive his letters.

For a time the widow did not associate the unsigned letters

with the stout little man of her acquaintance. Then he became bolder and signed his name, and even asked her if she had received the missives. Still she took it all as a harmless joke,

and would have continued to consider it lightly had not the most assuredly fervent tone.

Then she met Mrs. Wills and learned something of the man's upright reputation. Mrs. Phipps wondered too, and ended by telling together the letters Crandall

had sent her and mailed them to the wife.

"Let her settle the question and the husband," she said to herself. "Goodness knows, I can't have him bowing and scraping wherever I go."

The blow fell in the home of Crandall Wills. This was the first time the temperament of the romantic Crandall had taken

this turn, and the wife, with the bundle of letters, retired to her room to plan her course of ac-

Customs of African Deserts

Where a Cup of Coffee Takes

the place of a handshake. Even the sound of the coffee mill at first

is so strange that one pauses in valn to identify it. But once within the guest sees upon an earthen floor, priceless rugs and now and then articles of rare workmanship, and a vast of shape and color to delight the eye of an antiquarian.

There, amid these surroundings,

half luxurious, half squalid, squat

men of the household—the wives and the mother of the house—always they are shapeless

and heavily fat. The greeting of the coffee mill and the welcome by these dark, fat women, in the same

whether in the wanderer's tent or in the home of the merchant

prince. But always the fat women are reclining on silken cushions,

or squatting—amid unlovely surroundings—for fatness is the wife-

ly fashion there. Before marriage

the bride is thin and slender, but after marriage she must fulfill Oriental expectations and grow fat—

luxuriously fat.

Thus, welcoming helplessly or squatting, the hostess of the stranger, the coffee mill as stranger

or friend approaches; or she speeds

the parting guest in a manner to flatter and delight.

In Arabia, to the east, or down

in Egypt—that strange land of the Pharaohs—the sound of the coffee

mill takes the place of the hand-

clasp at the door.
